

As a flight attendant for a major airline, I strongly oppose any more leniency on the usage of cell phones. It is impossible to keep track of who is doing what with cell phones. I think it would give terrorists a way of communicating with each other in the air or from the air to the ground. I am pleading with you. We have enough chaos to contend with. This would just make it worse.